LIGHT + JUSTICE SYMPOSIUM

INTERIOR SPACES

11:45am – 4:45pm | Wollman Hall, Parsons School of Design
(Also available online via Zoom, hosted by IES)

Everyone deserves good lighting and beneficial darkness, particularly indoors, where most of us spend most of our time. Good lighting is an investment in occupant satisfaction, well-being, and productivity. Join the IES and Parsons School of Design, in collaboration with Light Justice, for a symposium exploring how indoor lighting quality—especially in public facilities—is generally neglected for marginalized, under-resourced, and vulnerable occupants.
